Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cowles spent Sunday with friends in Craftsbury.

Publicity Bureau at Newport.

Chairman Williams announces that republican headquarters have been opened at Newport and an active campaign has been started. It is Chairman Williams' intention that by means of the publicity bureau the most thorough presentation of all the issues, both of the national and state campaigns, be placed before all the voters. To the fullest extent the meaning of all platform declarations will be made plain with logical conclusions drawn as between the claims of the parties, and the campaign utterances of leaders, both republicans and democrats, will be discussed upon their merits.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Share are visiting at N. A. MacDonald's this week.

Mrs. G. M. Bailey of North Danville is the guest of Mrs. E. C. Martin this week.

Rev. L. F. Reed and a friend from Montpelier were in town for a short time last week. Mr. Reed is much taken with the country hereabouts and has decided to come here for a few weeks with his family soon, having engaged board. He says Barton is a really charming place.

The last week has been very pleasantly spent by a party of young people, namely, the Misses Lottie Valley, Lida Paquette, Mabel Vance, Yolande Blair, and Etta Folsom, at Sunset cottage on the shore of May pond. George Paquette acted as chaperon. Ask George about the fishing.

BARTON BASEBALL NOTES

Boys Go After Next Barton Landing Game Saturday. Look for Fast Game.

Barton baseball team has another strenuous week this week, playing the Frontiers to-day, St. Johnsbury to-morrow and Barton Landing Saturday. Let us all go to Barton Landing. Remember that they have given us liberal patronage here.

Wednesday's game with Barton Landing was easily won by Barton by a score of 7 to 1, the game being much less interesting to watch than the game on the Fourth. Barton Landing seemed to be a little off their feet that day (all teams have those days) while Barton was in good form. Barton should not have let them have the one score but could not quite return them the "goose egg" they handed us. The score of the game follows.

Barton baseball team met their Waterloo Saturday in a picked team of old Northern Leaguers from Barre and Montpelier. Both games were played in a continual drizzle and while Burns of Barre team showed himself competent to handle a wet ball, neither Reid nor Bishop were up to usual form, and the hitting of Barton was not a feature. Walden and Kelley distinguished themselves with brilliant plays. Below is the score:

Ecstatic, Baby Girl and Russell Gratton, horses belonging to Mr. Lang, Mr. Lee and Mr. Harding, were shipped to Nashua, N. H., Monday, for the races there this week. The Boston papers to-day state that Harding won first money at Nashua yesterday in the 2:29 trot with Baron Wedgewood, time 2:24 and second money in 2:14 pace with Common Voter.

The work on the macadam road at the upper end of Main street was begun Monday. The dirt taken out is being used for grading in different parts of the village. Fifteen men and three teams are at work this morning. The road across the bridge near the Peerless will be the width of the bridge and the sidewalk will be suspended on iron braces over the river. This will make the road four feet wider and will be a great improvement.

ANNOUNCEMENT. To the citizens and voters of Barton:—I hereby take this method of announcing to the citizens and voters of the town of Barton that I am a candidate for town representative. Should my candidacy meet with your approval at the polls on September 1 I can only promise you the same measure of service and interest in your behalf that I have given you in the years past in an official capacity and as a citizen.

Your obedient servant,
N. M. Lewis.

The Monitor has designed and has the material nearly completed and collected for a fine illustrated supplement of Barton. Colby Stoddard has been doing the work, the business men have all contributed their support and one of the finest productions in this line ever issued by a Vermont newspaper is expected. The edition will be out as soon as possible after August 1. The work and expense of such an edition is little realized by most people. The cuts alone entering into this edition will cost over $100 and the stock will be an expensive coated paper. All public institutions, business men and manufacturing interests and scenic attractions of the place will receive proper attention and it should prove a lasting benefit to Barton.

Work has been begun on the Woodman lot on Main street and it already presents a much improved appearance. The old woodshed at the north end of the house and its contents of decayed wood have been removed, the brush cut and taken away and trees trimmed. Fred expects to move the old house to the back of the lot, add another story, put under a good foundation and make a tenement of it, reached from School street. He will also move the barn back near the house for a shed if found in suitable condition. Already this old landmark, and we might say for years an eyesore, has taken on a change and before many weeks will present a still greater improvement. Fred also has a scheme for building an opera block on this site that would be an ornament to the village and is a much needed building. The location also appears to be ideal. Talk the matter over with Mr. Pillsbury. It is feasible and worth your consideration.

In conversation with a local merchant a few days ago he made the statement that his June business exceeded that of last year. This is the same testimony as that of a merchant in another town about his June trade, which speaks worlds for the complete return of business activity and confidence. Barton never experienced any exceptional booms in the matter of building, but through hard times and through good there has always been normal growth. Many towns the size of Barton report no building this year, yet Barton reports favorably with an average amount of building. Two extra fine sets of buildings are being erected, one by F. B. Lang on the corner next to the fair grounds and one by George Scott on Harrison avenue. Mr. Lang's house is large, well built from cellar to garret and finely finished and the painters are now at work on it. Mr. Scott's house is large and quite an expensive building with many novel features and original plan while the barn is large and equal to some houses. We plan for a full description of both houses later.

The Barton baseball team are fortunate in once more securing Prescelle, the hypnotist, to play a benefit September 10th and 10th, the second and Charged with Abusing Boy.

Lewis Perry of Lyndonville was arrested recently on the charge of intolerable severity toward Dwight Spencer, a boy 13 years old, who lives at his home, punishing the boy, it is alleged, in a severe manner because he did not return quickly from doing an errand. The boy's back and arms were covered with black and blue marks, ridges, where the stick hit him and in other ways showed the effect of hard beating. At hearing Perry was placed under bonds of $300 to appear at county court.

third days of the fair. The announcement will be heralded with delight, as Prescelle's entertainments which have been given the past three seasons are regarded as a completion of the mammoth program of Barton's gala week. Prescelle's versatility in creating the most laughable and interesting entertainment it has ever been our pleasure to witness is nothing short of marvelous. More than capacity audiences have been the rule at each performance given by this talented artist, and judging from popular sentiment the rule is bound to hold good this season as in the past. The presence of Mrs. Edna May Magoon and vaudeville will make up a bill hard to duplicate for real merit as a vaudeville entertainment. Mr. Pillsbury and Mr. Magoon are going to make every effort to eclipse all previous business done by Prescelle by advance advertising, by erecting advertising stands in conspicuous locations about town. A dance will be given each night after the show, which will be advertised later on. Keep your mind on the date.

Methodist Church Notes.

Services at the Methodist church will be as usual next Sunday. Praching by Rev. W. B. Dukeshire at 10:45. Sunday School at 12. Epworth League service at 7. The public cordially invited.

Congregational Church Notes.

There will be no Sunday school for the next two weeks.

As Rev. W. A. Warner is away on a two weeks' vacation there will be no preaching service the next two Sundays.

The C. E. society will hold no meetings for the next two Sundays. On next Sunday the society will hold a meeting in the Fisk schoolhouse at 3 o'clock p. m., leaving the church at about 1:30 o'clock. The school orchestra will be in attendance and the program will consist of the regular topic and music. Bring your new book. Those without teams will be furnished transportation from the church as stated above. Everyone invited.

St. Paul's Church Notes.

Mass next Sunday at East Albany at 9 a. m. and mass here at 11:30 a. m.

The Sisters of the convent leave here Thursday, July 30, for the retreat at Nicolette, P. Q.

Mrs. J. H. Lockwood of Barton Landing called on her mother, Mrs. Victoria Stone, one day last week.

Judge W. S. Thrasher of Dayton, N. Y., and N. S. Thrasher of Cleveland, O., have been staying at F. P. Thrasher's the past few days.

M. B. Mears was called to Peacham to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Geo. Mears July 17. Geo. Mears returned to the home of his son here on the following Saturday.

The ball team will cross bats with the Irasburg team on our home grounds this week Saturday at two o'clock p. m. The Irasburg boys have a strong team and this should be a good game.

Mrs. F. P. Thrasher's brother, Frank Walters, general manager of the Chicago & N. W. R. R., with his wife and two children of Omaha, Neb., has been visiting at F. P. Thrasher's. Mr. Walters remained here only three days. His wife and children left for their home last Saturday.

The ball game Saturday afternoon between W. W. & L. Co. and Lyndonville resulted in a victory for the visiting team by a score of 17-1. Our team was handicapped owing to the absence of several of the regular players. The rain which continued during the afternoon rendered the ball unfit to be either caught or thrown. The errors were many but were less numerous on the Lyndonville side.

ALBANY.

Additional Albany items will be found on another page of this paper.

$50 FOR KENT'S CAPTURE.

Elroy Kent, Who Escaped from Asylum at Waterbury Thought to be Murderer of Miss Congdon.

There is some excitement in the central part of the state from the fact that Kent, the desperate insane criminal who escaped from Waterbury a few weeks ago, is still at large, and that his initials were found fresh cut in the barn on the Congdon place Friday morning when the murdered girl was found. It appears that hay had been put into the barn the day before and on Friday morning fresh shavings were where the initials "E. K." had been cut on a beam and a place that looked as though someone had slept there. These things connected with the fact that Kent formerly lived in that vicinity point strongly to his guilt.

Miss Delia B. Congdon, the murdered girl, was a deaf mute and was killed in her pantry at East Wallingford Friday.

Dr. Don G. Grout of the asylum at Waterbury offers a reward of $50 for the capture of Kent. It is reported that farmers in Rutland county and all available officers are scouring the country with Winchesters looking for Kent.

master 20, and in the legislature four years. He leaves five children, two sons and three daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral held at his home Wednesday afternoon, July 22.

Fred Keir is driving the Hardwick stage for J. N. Patterson.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Slicer last week.

Mrs. Jessie Stevens of Manchester, N. H., is in town for a three weeks' visit.

Rev. Fred Larabee, D. D., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Larabee.

Mamie Rowell of Hardwick visited at F. J. Glidden's Wednesday and Thursday.

Harry Emery's father and mother from East Calais visited him Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Charles Thayer was thrown from a carriage one day last week, dislocating her shoulder.

The families of James and T. N. Gallagher went to Lowell last week to attend the wedding of Dr. Sheehan.

Mrs. Winnie Hoyt Hill and two children of Obid, N. Y., came Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. D. F. Hoyt.

The moving picture tent show that has exhibited every evening for a week closed Wednesday evening, July 22.

The friends of Miss Mahlo Patterson gave her a tin shower Saturday evening. It was a very enjoyable occasion.

Among those from out of town to attend the funeral of Mrs. Maggie Corrow were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin of Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge and Mr. Nelson of Glover.

The funeral of Mrs. Maggie Gage Corrow was held from her late home Tuesday, July 21, the Rev. W. E. Allen officiating. She leaves besides her husband an invalid mother and two sisters, Mrs. Bert Davis and Mrs. Will Tillotson. She was a member of the Methodist church, loved and respected by all, and much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing family.

EAST CRAFTSBURY.

Miss Eliza Mitchell is staying at Robert Harper's.

Most of the farmers in this section have finished haying.

Thomas Morse was home from Greensboro over Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis was a recent visitor at E. A. Dutton's.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper spent a few days at Willoughby last week.

Harry Daniels recently purchased a valuable colt from parties in Hardwick.

Miss Mary Simpson entertained her friend, Miss Jennie Salmon of Glover, recently.

Robert Paterson and Dick Thompson are cutting the town farm hay which they recently purchased.

Payson Morse, who recently cut his hand, has so far recovered as to return to his work in Greensboro.

Miss Ruth Palmer from Framingham, Mass., spent a few days with Miss Flora Dutton last week.

Late State Notes.

Co. G., V. N. G., of Bradford, is disbanded by order of the adjutant general because it has fallen below the standard of efficiency.

Frank Mansfield of Bristol, a bachelor 53 years old, committed suicide and was found dead Monday morning from an overdose of laudanum.

A fire in Woodbury yesterday destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of property. The fire started by children playing with matches.

State Officer Holton has notified the authorities of a Randolph milk concern that certain sewerage conditions must be complied with at once or complaint will be made.

Sheriff Hayden of Rutland, who was attacked Saturday with an axe by an Italian, died Sunday as a result of the injuries. Tony Valento, who committed the assault, is in jail charged with murder.

There have been three murder cases, all in Rutland county, several burglary attempts, one by gypsies in Vernon, and two suicides in the state during the past week, a record probably never equalled before.

A traveling man while stopping at a hotel in Bellows Falls last week became acquainted with a hostler at the livery stable and invited the hostler, Harry Casey, to his room. Later they went on a swimming trip and on returning the drummer found $140 missing from his room. The officers are looking for Casey, who is not to be found.

Miss Lula Wood of Putney died Monday evening while having some teeth extracted by Dr. Bugbee of that place. While the heart action of the girl appeared normal when gas was given her heart failed while the dentist was working on her teeth and while everything was done that was possible life had gone. Dr. Bugbee is a thoroughly reputable dentist and no blame is placed on him. He is deeply affected.

Lee Cowles has finished work for Robert Harper and has returned to his home at North Craftsbury.

One of the pleasant events of the season was a tin shower given to Miss Mary Paterson by her many friends Saturday afternoon and evening. Refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed by all present.
